THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME

The greatest moving picture in the world

The moving picture followed the charging British Troops across "No Man's Land" through the German barbed wire July 1st.

PART 1.

Preparatory Action, June 24th to 30th.

Showing the activities before the attack. Similar action took place along the entire British front in Picardy.

Hidden batteries were pounding the German trenches for five days before the attack of July 1st.

4.7 inch guns were giving the enemy no rest.

6-inch Howitzers in action shelling the German first-line trenches of Mametz.

Canadian 60-pounders added to the din of gun fire.

Shrapnel bursting over their trenches kept Germans astir.

Church service evening before attack.

Firing "plum puddings" for Emperor Bill from trench mortars.

Bombarding the Germans with 9.2-inch Howitzers.

Shells tearing up the enemy's deep dugouts.

PART 2.

A meal in camp on the evening of the great advance.

Moving up the troops.

Operating a 15-inch Howitzer ("Grandmother") by Royal Marine Artillery, firing shells weighing 1400 lbs.

Terrific concentrated bombardment of German trenches the morning of the attack, July 1st, 1916.

Firing bayonets and passing through the communication trenches to first line.

Just before the attack, blowing up the enemies' trenches by a huge mine.

Wiring the crater.

Firing machine guns from the crater.

Shrapnel, bursting over first-line German trenches.

Reproduced from the official film of the Imperial Government

OUR 71st YEAR—NO. 6.

CRASH

New York, Jan. 31.—Great Britain and her allies are prepared to accept German terms in the proposed armistice campaign. It was authoritatively reported in shipping circles here today. The estimate passed on by the officials weeks ago that ruthless war with sudden hand would be followed by a peace conference, was now being confirmed. It was said that the British Government had been ready to accept German terms for some time, but that the war had been too long and the situation had become too serious to allow of this. The British Government had been ready to accept German terms for some time, but that the war had been too long and the situation had become too serious to allow of this.

To meet the emergency, which was not expected, the British Government had been ready to accept German terms for some time, but that the war had been too long and the situation had become too serious to allow of this. The British Government had been ready to accept German terms for some time, but that the war had been too long and the situation had become too serious to allow of this.

New York, Jan. 31.—Despatches to the Associated Press from every quarter of the United States today reveal a remarkable unanimity of editorial opinion. ## MURDER CAMPAIGN BRIEFLY SKETCHED

In effect the German note to the United States, published today, declares a blockade of the British Isles, the French coast and certain portions of the coast of Holland. It leaves a route for cargoes engaged in transportation and other deep-sea trades to the open neutral ports of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland by way of a designated sea lane extending from the Fries Islands to a point near the Norwegian coast, and thence across the Danish and Dutch waters to the Terschelling Lightship. There is no express mention of English Channel under this provision, but the German project to prevent all traffic farther east than the Fries Islands.
